LAST EDITION.

IMPORTANT FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

The Cuban Intervention Matter.

Serious Crisis in the Spanish Ministry, Etc., Etc., Etc.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The Herald special cable from Vienna says: The Secretary of State of the United States has transmitted to every European Government a circular, dated in Washington, asking an expression of the views of each foreign executive regarding the question of American intervention in Cuba.

The object of the American Cabinet Ministry is the obtaining of data to be used in the preparation of President Grant's supplementary message to Congress. All the foreign governments have replied satisfactorily. England is ready to endorse the intervention movement. The other nations express their willingness to support the intervention, but hesitate to take any active part.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The Herald's special from Madrid says DeCastro is now in Paris arranging for the return of Ex-Queen Isabella to Spain. King Alfonso is in issue with the Ministry in this matter. He defies the Cabinet, declaring that the Ministers may resign, but the Queen, his mother, must have an asylum in Spain; her residence to be in Valladolid, for the reason that Madrid is not considered safe for her. It is believed that this serious issue has been forced on Alfonso by the Queen. The results will be most disastrous. The Spanish army will be divided at once if the Ex-Queen takes any part in State affairs. Isabella's return will even cause the loss of Senor Segasta to the loyalists.

A GENERAL ELECTION.

MADRID, Dec. 29.—The Spanish Government has ordered a general election to be held on January 10 next, and the opening of the Cortes on February 15.

FOUND AGAIN.

CHARLIE ROSS ON A NEW ENGLAND RAILROAD.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 29.—Last evening as Conductor Dooke was going through a Pullman on the Northern railroad he found a small boy without any ticket, who said he was placed on the car at Nashua by Mr. Butler, and was going to his uncle's in Indianapolis. The boy said he was told by Mr. Butler to say that he worked in a cotton mill, and it was evident that he knew nothing about a mill.

He said he had recently come from Manchester, England, with Mr. Butler; but that he once lived in Philadelphia, and was taken from his brother and carried to New York, where he was kept locked up in a box for a long time. Then he was taken to Manchester, England, where he was kept until recently. He says his name was Ross once, but is Donegan now.

He was dressed quite shabbily and his pants were smeared with oil. The boy was taken charge of by Mr. Chippen, Agent of the Vermont Central railroad, who resides in Montreal, and is said to strongly resemble a picture of Charlie Ross.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The Herald editorially discussing the disturbances on the Mexican border says: The proposition of Minister Foster to negotiate a treaty with the Mexican authorities for the United States troops to pursue cattle raiders and other criminals across the border is an absurd proposition, and even if permission should be given we would have to reciprocate by allowing Mexican troops to pursue fugitive criminals into Texas, as cattle raiding is known to be practiced on both sides.

Such a treaty instead of preventing difficulties would multiply them, and before being in operation a year would inevitably, through mutual animosities, lead to war.

The Herald considers that the only remedy for these border difficulties is a change of boundary.

The true policy of this Government is to keep remonstrating with the Mexican authorities, to maintain as vigilant force of troops on the border, and when an emergency arises purchase a sufficient belt of territory from Mexico. That Government is poor, and its pecuniary necessities will compel it to listen to such a proposal at no distant period.

A Man that Looks Like Tweed.

QUEBEC, Dec. 29.—Last Monday Detective Skeffington received a telegram from St. Thomas stating that Boss Tweed had been seen in that neighborhood.

Skeffington and his second self, Bolger, immediately started for St. Thomas on their own hook, and arriving there obtained the following information from the party who sent the telegram.

He stated that he had been awakened the previous night by an inhabitant from Three Rivers who wished to know the way to St. Ann's. In giving the requested information he noticed a sleigh at the door in which were seated two persons, one of whom was unusually stout and whom he positively asserts was Boss Tweed, he having seen him in New York. The detectives tracked the sleigh to Riviere du Loup, and there they were compelled to pawn their watches in order to get back to Quebec, they not having sufficient funds to proceed.

The Boss's photograph was recognized by the people at whose house he had stopped on the way. Whether or not it is Boss Tweed is a matter which at present cannot be decided. It may be remarked that St. Thomas has become notorious as the place where the St. Albans raiders were arrested. It is now supposed he is in or near Halifax.

Beecher-Moulton.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 29.—Mr. Beecher in a conversation said he had not read the papers served upon him by Moulton's lawyers, but has handed the whole matter to his counsel. He can not say when the case will come to trial. He is represented by Sherman & Stirling. He refrains from reading the newspaper accounts of the case, as he did on the former trial. Moulton to-day says he is fully determined to press the suit to an early trial.

Married by Lightning.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 29.—Geo. Scott Jeffrey, a telegraph operator, of Waynesburg, Greene county, in this State, and Miss Lydia Culler, telegraph operator at Brownsville, were united in marriage by telegraph yesterday, the ceremony commencing at 2 P. M. The officiating clergyman, at Waynesburg, read the ceremony to the groom, who telegraphed the same to the bride, who responded by wire. All other business was suspended for the day.

The ceremony was the second marriage by telegraph in this part of the country. Four years ago a lady of Pittsburgh and a gentleman of Rome were married by Bishop Dominic, of this diocese, by wire.

Minor Mentions.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Dec. 29.—The bark Gertie is off.

QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 29.—The steamship Eugland from New York arrived this morning.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Nothing new has been developed in the whisky business investigation.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 29.—Mrs. D. W. Perkins, of Pittsfield, suffered a loss by fire of $14,000 to-day.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 29.—It is claimed the originator of the idea of furnishing for those who desire them "private coaches with liveried coachmen," but that the honor belongs to Mr. F. B. Maertz, of 300 Plum street, who, as long ago as when the Grand Hotel was first opened, did the same thing, and was the first to do so.

By the influence of mutual friends of the Sixth street man and the Grand (where orders for the rigs are left), the business was taken from Maertz and placed where it is now.

To Mr. Maertz also belongs the distinction of first proposing a line of telegraph wire to facilitate communication between the hotels and the stable. "Floor to wire honor is due," say Mr. Maertz still lives, and can be interviewed on this momentous question any time at his place of business on Plum street. But he emphatically protests against having his thunder stolen by anybody.

Personal.

J. H. Burnell and wife, of Rock Island, Ill., are registered at the St. James.

Suicide.

Charles A. Hemerle, of No. 5 Hamilton road, cut his throat this morning with a razor, and died in 45 minutes.

It is supposed that the deed was done in a temporary fit of insanity caused by the recent loss of his wife.

It will be remembered that his wife, who died some months since, was buried in the German Protestant burying ground, and her body was taken up by resurrectionists.

Coroner May held an inquest, and rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts above.

Robbed.

Two men, one a resident of Buford, O., and the other of Pricetown, robbed the store of A. T. Moon & Co., merchants of Buford, Highland county, O., last night, and took a lot of valuable clothing and one hundred dollars in money, and then rode off two horses, the property of the same firm. The thieves abandoned the horses and got off the clothing at New Hope, and then boarded Ham Allen's omnibus and came to this city. We have the names of the robbers, which we withhold for prudential considerations.

Cutting Affray.

Charles Wenk and Hubert Heon are colored waiters at the Burnet House. This morning, about 11 o'clock, an altercation about some trivial personal affair ensued between them, which resulted in the cutting of Heon by Wenk in the face with a razor. The wound is an ugly one, across the nose and upper lip, but is not considered dangerous.

Uncle George Palmer, special policeman, arrested Wenk and took him to the Ninth-street Station-house, and his victim was put to bed in the hotel and medical aid summoned.

A STREET beggar or tramp, hailing from the city of Cleveland, was taken in at the Hammond-street Station this morning, and the charge of vagrancy placed opposite his name, which he gave as Francis Martin. Upon being searched a bank book was found in one of his pockets showing a cash balance in favor of Francis Martin of $1,095.46 with the Society for Savings, of Cleveland. Bully for Francis Martin.

SENSE that a certain lively stable man of Sixth street has been getting lately a good deal of free advertising for what one of the daily papers call "commendable enterprise," we propose to give a little space for the purpose of letting the public know that the Sixth street man is not, as is claimed, the originator of the idea of furnishing for those who desire them "private coaches with liveried coachmen," but that the honor belongs to Mr. F. B. Maertz, of 300 Plum street, who, as long ago as when the Grand Hotel was first opened, did the same thing, and was the first to do so.
